Dear Parents of home learners,

As this difficult term progresses, we are delighted at how many of you are managing to get on board with home learning.

During this lockdown the expectations from the government have clearly shifted away from just keeping children safe at home, to ensuring that all children continue to access their learning, whether in school or at home.

As a school we have a responsibility to ensure the children are continuing their learning whilst at home. Therefore your child's teacher is setting work on Tapestry and may be providing home learning packs to support this programme, where needed.

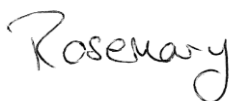

We are also providing video meet-ups, daily for the oldest children, and at least twice a week for our youngest pupils, as arranged by their class teachers. These sessions are recorded for safeguarding purposes, so please ensure that your child is appropriately dressed before attending the virtual meet.

Please make sure that your child is making use of all of the opportunities currently offered to them whilst at home. Your responsibility is to support your child to complete the activities they have been set by their class teachers and to join in the video meets. To show that your child has completed the work please take a photo and upload to Tapestry, unless using an online learning resource such as Oxford Owl.

If you are having any difficulties accessing learning resources or uploading photos of completed work, please contact your child's class teacher or Lizzie to explain the issue that you are having, so as we can do our best to help resolve them.

Thank you for partnering with us in these difficult times.

Best Wishes

Rosemary Charlton
